U.S. trade commission blocks 300pc tariffs on Bombardier C Series planes

"Through a venture with European planemaker Airbus SE, which has agreed to take a majority stake in the C Series this year, Bombardier plans to assemble C Series jets in Alabama to be sold to US carriers starting in 2019", said the Reuters story. "This decision will support well-paying middle-class jobs on both sides of the border", she said in a statement.

Although none of the planes have been delivered, the Commerce Department ruled that the aircraft benefited from unfair subsidies and were sold below cost, allowing Bombardier to have an advantage over Boeing.

"Boeing remains confident in the facts of our case and will continue to document any harm to Boeing and our extensive US supply chain that results from illegal subsidies and dumped pricing".

It's "a great, nearly stunning victory for Bombardier, given some of the comments of the Trump administration and some other people, but it strikes me as a very sound decision", he told CBC News.

"We will not stand by as Bombardier's illegal business practices continue to harm American workers and the aerospace industry they support. That's a belief we will continue to defend".
